Numb. 1630

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Thursday June 30. to Monday July 4 1681.

Francfort, July 2.

THE French have summoned Creutznach, and have sent some of their Troops thither, but hitherto they have not committed any hostility. Count Oxenstierne the Swedish Ambassador is parted from Ratisbonne on his way to Vienna, whither the Elector Palatine is likewise sending an Envoye to represent the oppressions he lies under from the French.

Marseilles, July 1. The 10 Gallies that sailed lately from hence are come back, having been no farther than Majorca, where they were very well received. There is now fitting out here with great diligence another squadron of Gallies, which is designed for the coast of Italy. We have Advice that two of the Great Duke of Tuscany's Gallies have taken on the coast of Sicily, a Ship belonging to Sally, of 8 Guns, and 130 Men.

Paris, Jul. 9. The Dauphiness continues still very much indisposed, though she is much better than she was. The differences between the Inhabitants of Andaye and Fonterabia may have ill consequences; it seems to be here firmly believed that those men who were some time since found dead, and were said to have been drowned, were Murthered by those of Fonterabia; and there is a report as if something had happened since, which has farther exasperated the French who have taken several Barks belonging to Fonterabia. We have Letters from Switzerland which tell us that the Cantons are now assembled, and that great endeavours are used to give them such jealousies of the Forts which our King has ordered to be built on the Frontiers of Alsace, and the Franche Comte, as may induce them to enter into Engagements with the Emperor and the Crown of Spain. From Germany they write, That the Chamber of Metz has Summoned the City of Creutznach, as a dependance of the Bishoprick of Verdun, and that the King has given it to the Prince of Birkenfeldt, now Duke of Deux-ponts.

Windsor, June 29. The following Address was presented to His Majesty by Mr. Roberts, Son to my Lord Bosmyn, and Sir Peter Colleton.

To the Kings most Excellent Majesty.

The Humble Address of Your Majesties most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects, the Mayor and Free-Burgesses of Your Majesties antient Burrough of Bossiny, Trevena, and Tintagell, in Your Majesties County of Cornwal.

WE Your Majesties most Loyal and Dutiful Subjects, being deeply sensible of the repeated Instances of Your Majesties Grace and Favour to us; and more particularly, by Your Majesties late Gracious Declaration, do esteem our selves obliged in all Duty, Loyalty, and Humility, to return Your Sacred Majesty our bounden Thanks for the most Gracious Assurances You have been pleased therein to renew to us, of Governing us according to the known Laws of the Realm; beseeching Your Majesty to accept from us, Your ever Loyal and Dutiful Subjects, our stedfast Resolutions of standing by Your Majesty, and Your lawful Successors, with our Lives and Fortunes, in the preservation of the established Government in Church and State; And when Your Majesty out of Your Princely Wisdom shall think fit to Assemble Your Great Council of Parliament, we shall make it our care to choose Persons so qualified, as most effectually to represent us; and we most earnestly beseech Almighty God, to Bless Your Majesty with a long and prosperous Reign; and that ous Incendiaries, or any other sort of unreasonable Men that shall endeavour to rob us of those Blessings which we have so uninterruptedly enjoyed, ever since Your Majesties most Glorious Restauration. Sealed with our Town-Seal the 10th day of June, 1681. Signed by all.

Hampton-Court, June 30. This day several Apprentices of London, presented an Humble Address to His Majesty, in the name of themselves and many thousand others: The King was pleased to receive it very kindly, and to commend their Zeal for the preserving the established Religion and Government, in which Dutiful and Loyal Principles, His Majesty bid them persevere, and assured them of His Royal Favour and Kindness, and that he would on all occasions give them the marks of it.

To the Kings most Excellent Majesty.

The Humble Address of the Royal Apprentices of the City of LONDON.

May it Please Your Most Sacred Majesty,

WE the Young Men, Apprentices of the City of London, and Your Majesties most Dutiful Subjects, do daily Praise God for the Blessings we enjoy under your most Gracious Government, in the Security of our Religion, Liberties, and Properties, and in the comfortable hopes we receive of Reaping the fruits of our Services and Industry in our respective Trades and Callings, under Your Royal Protection.

We do therefore take the boldness to present our most Thankful Acknowledgments to Your Princely Bounty for all these Benefits, and to offer to Your Majesty our Resolutions, as one Man, to employ our Lives and Fortunes, to the utmost, in the Preservation and Defence of Your Sacred Person, Prerogative, and Government; and likewise to defend the true Protestant Religion, as by Law Established, against all Opposers whatsoever, as well Papists as others, who under colour of finding Faults with the Government, endeavour to alienate the hearts of Your Majesties good Subjects from their Duty to their Sovereign.

We do humbly presume to implore Your Sacred Majesties Gracious Acceptance of this Tribute of Gratitude from your most obedient Subjects, in return of what we owe to the most Gracious Goodness of your late Princely Declaration, and to the incomparable Clemency of Your Majesties Administration and Government; which we humbly Beseech God long to continue unto Your Majesty; and to Crown Your Royal Virtues, after this Life, with IMMORTAL GLORY.

Signed by many Thousands, Apprentices of London

To the Kings most Excellent Majesty.

WE Your Majesties most Obedient Subjects the Mayor, Aldermen, Assistants, and Inhabitants of Your Majesties Burrough of Penryn in the County of Cornwal, having lately heard Your Majesties most Gracious Declaration, published by Your Majesties Royal Command (do with all Humility according to our bounden Duty and Allegiance to Your Majesty, our only Sovereign Lord and King) Present Your Majesty with all imaginable Thanks and Acknowledgments for the same. We are sufficiently sensible of the great Peace and Tranquility we have enjoyed, under Your Majesties most wise and prudent Government, since Your Majesties happy Restauration to Your Crowns and Kingdoms, whereby our Laws, Religion and Liberties, were redeemed from the pressures of Tyranny and Usurpation; and notwithstanding most parts of Christendom have been involved in War and Blood, yet by Your Majesties profound Judgment and Councils, we have not only been preserved from those misfortunes, but Your Majesty hath been a Bulwark to Your Allies, and terror to their Enemies. Nor can we doubt but that great God, who so often hath miraculously hitherto preserved Your Majesties Royal Person, will still assist Your Majesty with his Grace and Favour, to trample on the necks of all Your Enemies. We cannot omit (with all possible Joys and Gratitudes) to confess Your Majesties great Goodness towards us, and all other Your Majesties Subjects, in that Your Majesty hath been Graciously pleased to assure us by Your Royal Word, that the Laws shall be the Rule of Your Majesties Government, both in Church and State. That frequent Parlia-
